ANTI-NARCOTICS OPERATIONS COURSE

This course provides an overview of the U.S. Government's effort in combating the international narcotics problem with emphasis on CIA's operational role and functions. The identification, manufacture and smuggling of narcotics is covered as well as the DDO's operational activities against this target, including planning and implementation of its responsibilities and limitations in cooperating with U.S. Government enforcement agencies. Lecture - discussion sessions, supplemented by panel discussion and the use of films, video tapes and case studies are employed during the first three days. A narcotics problem, based on actual field problems, will occupy the final two days.

FOR: DDO professional personnel who have, or may have, assigned responsibility for the planning, conduct or support of narcotics related operations either in Headquarters or the field.
